PIANTA PIANO PRIMO

This is a detailed architectural floor plan of a multi-story building, likely a residential or institutional structure. The plan is oriented horizontally on the page. It features a complex arrangement of rooms, including bedrooms, bathrooms, and common areas, all connected by a central corridor system. The drawing is a black and white line art illustration, showing the layout of the building's interior spaces. The plan includes numerous rooms, each with its own set of furniture and fixtures, such as beds, desks, and tables. The layout is symmetrical, with a central corridor running through the middle of the building. The rooms are arranged in a grid-like pattern, with the central corridor providing access to all areas. The drawing is a technical representation of the building's interior, showing the spatial organization and the relationship between different rooms. The plan is a clear and concise way of communicating the building's layout, allowing for a detailed understanding of the space. The drawing is a high-quality architectural illustration, showing the layout of the building's interior spaces in a clear and concise manner.
